

AUTHOR BIO

Dr. Vladimir Levin

Dr. Vladimir Levin is the Director of the Center for Jewish Art at Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Born in St. Petersburg, he holds a Ph.D. from the Hebrew University. He authored From Revolution to War: Jewish Politics in Russia, 1907-1914 (in Hebrew, 2016) and co-edited Synagogues in Lithuania: A Catalogue (2010-2012). In 2017 he co-authored with Sergey Kravtsov the book Synagogue in Ukraine: Volhynia, and currently works on the book of Jewish heritage in Siberia with Anna Berezin. He also published 120 articles and essays about social and political aspects of modern Jewish history in Eastern Europe, synagogue architecture and ritual objects, Jewish religious Orthodoxy, Jewish-Muslim relations, Jews and Jewish politics in Lithuania, Russian architecture in the Holy Land, history of many East-European Jewish communities etc.

Dr. Levin headed numerous research expeditions to documents synagogues and other monuments of Jewish material culture in eastern and central Europe and lead several research projects in the field of Jewish Art, the most important of which is the creation of the Bezalel Narkiss Index of Jewish Art – the world's largest digital depository of Jewish heritage (<http://cja.huji.ac.il/browser.php>).

* * *

Dr. Vladimir Levin,
Director,
Center for Jewish Art,
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem,
Mount Scopus, Humanities Building,
Jerusalem 9190501, Israel
Tel.: w: +972-2- 588-2281; h: +972-2-585-7754; m: +972-54-479-2496, vlalevin@gmail.com
<https://huji.academia.edu/VladimirLevin>

New Books:

Synagogues in Ukraine: Volhynia (<http://cja.huji.ac.il/Publications/volhynia.htm>)